

SECTION 3
EIGHT PAGES

The Sun.

NEW YORK, SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1918.
Copyright, 1918, by the Sun Printing and Publishing Association.

PICTORIAL
MAGAZINE

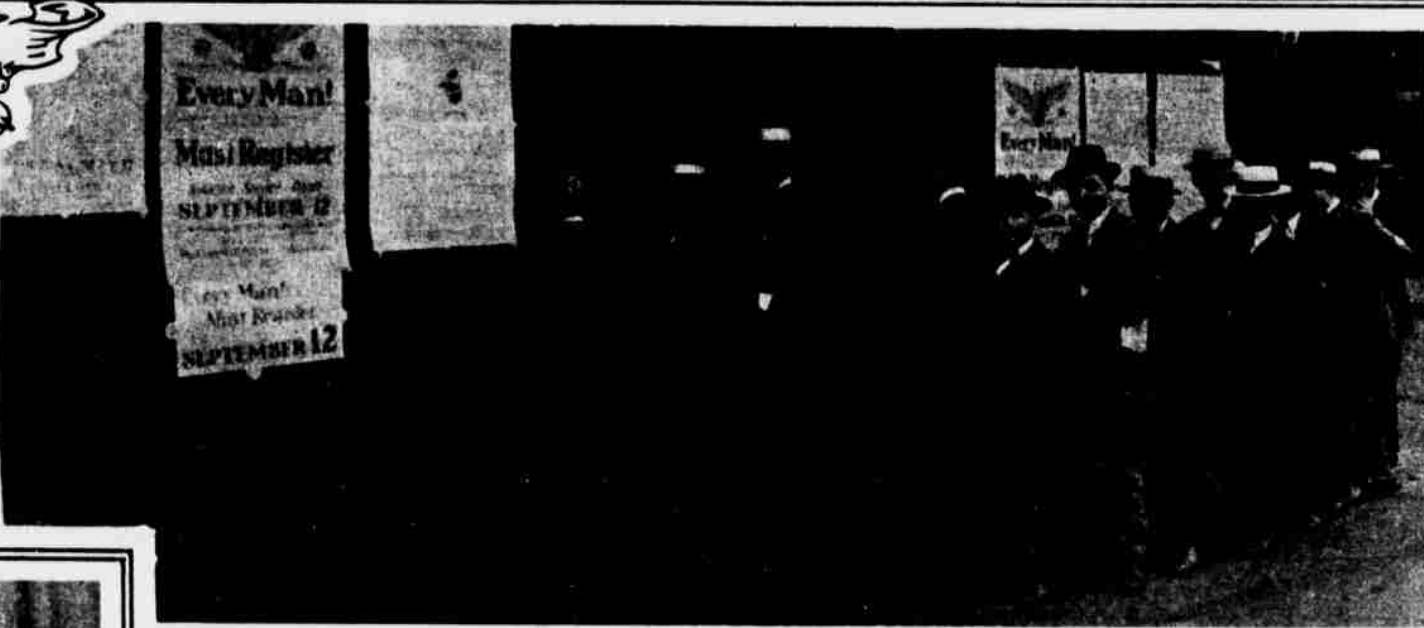

While 13,000,000 more Americans were registering in the draft here, draft men in France were performing such tasks as this—herding Hun prisoners back after a battle.

Copyright, French Pictorial Service.

At left—There were numerous instances such as this of father and son both registering for the draft. The boy was 18 on Sept. 11.

Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

A typical street scene on registration day. In some cases the queue of prospective registrants extended for a block. The feature of the day was the readiness and enthusiasm with which millions of men enrolled.

Copyright, Western Newspaper Union.

Congressmen registering at Washington. Left to right, standing, Harrison of Mississippi, Overmyer of Ohio, Gard of Ohio, Fuller of Massachusetts, Van Dyke of Minnesota. Seated, in white, Scott of Michigan. Others are registrars.

Photo International Film.

Women were employed in large numbers all over the country to register Uncle Sam's new army. This picture shows the inside of a draft board's quarters on the East Side.

Photo International Film.

CANADIAN BIG GUNS AT WORK IN THE OPEN DURING THE ALLIED ADVANCE. THE INFANTRY RUSH HAS JUST PASSED BY AND IS A THOUSAND YARDS BEYOND.

Canadian Official, Copyright Underwood & Underwood.